2. Contact Information

As an international student, joining an international club can help to ease your transition to Canada while providing an opportunity to meet new friends and network within the Brock community. Membership in one of the following clubs can assist you in connecting with other international students and provide an opportunity to learn from students who have experienced Canadian culture, social norms, and lifestyle. The friends you meet can help with the transition you will experience during your time at Brock, and your involvement in these clubs can start to build your resume and professional network.

Brock University Korean Students Association (BUKA)
Focused on improving the relationship among Korean students at Brock. We help first-year Korean students adjust to their life at Brock and increases opportunities to connect with other Asian and Canadian groups.

International Student Association (ISA)
Represents many international students at Brock and provides networking opportunities for students to share common interests.

South Asian Student Alliance (SASA)
Providing a hub for all the South Asian students and other Brock student community members to get together and celebrate different religious occasions.

Brock Club de Francais
Promotes the French language and culture outside the classroom and builds connections between Brock students. We aim to help Brock Students strengthen their skills while participating in different social and cultural events.

Jewish Students' Association (JSA)
Providing Jewish students at Brock with a sense of community, providing the greater Brock community with a taste of Jewish culture, and acting as a Jewish voice on campus.

CONTACT INFORMATION

Contact information for each club typically changes with each new academic year when a new president and executive transition into their respective roles. For up-to-date contact information for the above-mentioned clubs, please visit

Brock University Ghanaian Association (BUGA)
Brings together students of Ghanaian descent. We seek to foster cordiality among all members and to create a platform for deliberation of pertinent issues that affect the lives of the association's members here in Canada.

Brock Tamil Students Association
Fosters an appreciation for the Tamil language and culture while maintaining a constructive and sociable community within Brock University.

African Caribbean Society
Seeks to bring the cultural expressions of Africa and the Caribbean to Brock University in order to discover, celebrate, and build awareness about our rich heritage, while also building awareness about the issues that our people face daily.

Saudis
Provide more opportunity for Saudi students to get involved in the Brock community and represent the Saudi culture by organizing and managing several events throughout the school year.
