Brock's Vervaeke honoured at Chatelaine Women of Influence Luncheon

PHOTO SUPPLIED

From left: Ron Gourlay, recently retired coach of the Brock women's soccer team; Sherri-Leigh Vervaeke; and Lorne Adams, Brock's Director of Athletics.

Brock student Sherri-Leigh Vervaeke was one of 18 female scholar-athletes honoured by the Ontario University Athletics (OUA) on December 2, at the Chatelaine Women of Influence Luncheon, held at the Sheraton Centre Hotel in Toronto.

The OUA recognized an outstanding young woman from each of the Ontario universities who has excelled both in academics and athletics this past year.

Congratulating them on their accomplishments was Charmaine Crooks, a five-time Olympian and one of Canada's most celebrated international athletes.

Vervaeke, of Grimsby, Ont., is a member of the Brock Badgers women's soccer team. For the past four years, she has been working towards her Bachelor of Arts in Child and Youth Studies.

Currently, Vervaeke is a Research Assistant with the Youth Lifestyle Choices - Community/University Research Alliance (YLC-CURA), a partnership between Brock and the Niagara community to examine risk-taking behaviours in Niagara youth. She has also served as a Teaching Assistant in the Department of Child and Youth Studies, and has served as a tutor for the Niagara Catholic District School Board.

Vervaeke has received numerous accolades in recent years, including the RM Davis Surgite Award, which recognizes the highest academic average of all student-athletes at Brock, and the President's Surgite Award, for outstanding contributions to the Brock community and positive advancement of Brock's reputation.

Vervaeke has also parlayed her playing experience into coaching, as she co-coaches a U15 competitive girls travel soccer team, and is captain/coach of a Niagara women's soccer team (comprised primarily of Brock players) who compete in a highly competitive indoor soccer league in Grimsby.

Unique $19.5 million facility approved for Brock

Brock University will construct a $19.5 million facility to house a new bookstore, provide additional academic space and house the Lifespan Development Research Centre, a facility unique in Canada.

Approved by the University's Board of Trustees at a recent meeting, the 75,000 square foot, five-level complex will be located to the east of Taro Hall and the Alumni Student Centre, to the southeast of the Schmon Tower. The development and its location are consistent with the campus development plan, which was approved last year following broad campus and community consultation.

"With 16,000 students, we have the same bookstore we had for 6,000 students. It is simply not functional," according to Brock President David Atkinson. "As Brock has experienced rapid growth, it continues to need new academic space. At the same time, our proposal for the Lifespan Development Research Centre has attracted great interest and major grants from the Canadian Foundation for Innovation (CFI) and the Ontario Innovation Trust (OIT). Bringing the three initiatives together makes great economic sense."

The Lifespan Development Research Centre will bring 40 professors together from three different faculties to better understand issues ranging from infant development and teen gambling to detecting and treating dementia at its earliest stages. The Centre will work with 36 community organizations and train future generations of health researchers and practitioners.

Funding from the project will come from its several components including bookstore revenues, grants from the CFI and OIT and donations from the private sector required to complete financing for the Lifespan Development Research Centre. It is expected the facility will be complete by September 2006. For more information, go to www.brocku.ca

W E D N E S D A Y , D E C E M B E R 1 5 , 2 0 0 4

Brock news

A newsletter for faculty and staff at Brock University, St. Catharines, Ontario

Brock University services over the holiday season

Most University offices will be closed at 12 noon, Friday, December 24 and will reopen at 8:30 a.m., Monday, January 3, 2005.

There will be limited services available in the James A. Gibson Library and the Registrar's Office on December 28, 29 and 30, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The Walker Complex will be open December 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., and January 2 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Access to the Walker Complex will be limited to the west entrance opposite the tennis courts.

On December 25, 26, 27 and 31, as well as January 1 and 2, (statutory holidays) Campus Security Services will unlock the Schmon Tower's main entrance from 9:30 to 10 a.m. and from 1:30 to 2 p.m. for those who do not possess an exterior door key and have a legitimate reason to enter the University.

Faculty and staff do not need a pass to gain access providing they have their own keys for access and can produce an ID. Anyone else wishing access to the University must notify Campus Security Services, through email from their administrative assistant, Dean or Department Head, of their impending visit. This e-mail notice must be received prior to December 24 and indicate the times and dates of the visits. Those persons will still be required to produce Brock University ID on the day of their visit.

For safety and welfare reasons, anyone entering the University during this period should sign in and out at the Welcome Desk, located on the main floor of the Schmon Tower.

There will be no food service other than vending machines during the holidays. There are a number of food outlets on the east side of Glenridge Avenue, immediately opposite the campus.

Should a significant snowfall occur, D and P Lots will be the only parking lots cleared. Major campus roads will also be cleared.

If you have further questions regarding this notice, please contact Campus Security at extension 3200.

Brand-new look. Same, great content. Get ready for a new-look Brock News in 2005....

Humanities Research Day

On Thursday, December 16, 2004, the Humanities Research Institute will present Brock's first Humanities Research Day from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, on the Mezzanine level of Pond Inlet.

The object of the presentations is to introduce listeners to the exciting work of eight Humanities scholars, who will share insights into their work with colleagues in the Humanities and with the Brock community as a whole.

Entitled From Neolithic to Now: What Humanists Know, How They

Continues on page 2

Brock News schedule

The first Brock News issue of 2005 will be published on Wednesday, January 12. The deadline for submissions to this issue is Friday, December 24. Kevin J. Grout is the Editor of Brock News. He can be reached at ext. 4690. Please continue to e-mail submissions to: campusnews@brocku.ca

Below are dates and submission deadlines for the rest of 2004, and the new schedule for 2005.

Publication Date	Submission Deadline	Publication Date	Submission Deadline
January 12, 2005	December 24, 2004	July 13	July 1
January 26	January 14	July 27	July 15
February 9	January 28	August 10	July 29
February 23	February 11	August 24	August 12
March 9	February 25	September 7	August 26
March 23	March 11	September 21	September 9
April 6	March 25	October 5	September 23
April 20	April 8	October 19	October 7
May 4	April 22	November 2	October 21
May 18	May 6	November 16	November 4
June 1	May 20	November 30	November 18
June 15	June 3	December 14	December 2
June 29	June 17

Chancellor's Chair lecture

What do Russians think about their place in the world? Do they see themselves as of the West or of the East? After the collapse of Communism this issue has become even more urgent, as Russians reconsider their relationship with the United States, the European Union, China, and other powers.

David Schimmelpenninck, an associate professor of Russian and East Asian History at Brock University, will consider this intriguing question in the first Chancellor's Chair lecture of the new year. The presentation will take place on Friday, January 28, 2005, from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Senate Chambers. Titled "What Is Russian Orientalism?" his talk draws on the ideas of the late literary scholar Edward Said. Instead of dwelling on theory, Schimmelpenninck will examine art and music, two mediums that dramatically express Russians' views of their national and continental identity. Illustrated with the canvases of the 19th century painter Vasilii Vereshchagin and clips of Alexander Borodin's opera Prince Igor, he will suggest that the answer is not necessarily clear-cut. Call ext. 3035 for more information.

Women and families on the verge of homelessness

Come explore the realities of homelessness and learn about two organizations that assist women and families in need. A special presentation sponsored by a group of students from Brock's Women's Studies program will be held on Wednesday, January 19, 2005, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Pond Inlet. The doors will open at 6:30 p.m., and refreshments will be available.

Guest speakers include Julie Dennis, Executive Director from Bethlehem Place and Diane Marino, Operations/Housing Director from YWCA Crisis Housing.

The event is co-sponsored by the Brock's Centre for Women's Studies, Campus Ministries, and the Ontario Public Interest Research Group (OPIRG, Brock)

Note: Donations will be gratefully accepted for Bethlehem Place and YWCA Crisis Housing in the form of money or toiletry items.

For more information contact: Dianne at dbergsma@brocku.ca or at ext. 3499.

Brock University

E-mail submissions to:
campusnews@brocku.ca
University Web site: www.brocku.ca
Brock News is a publication of the Office of University Advancement.
905-688-5550, ext. 3245
FAX 905-641-5216

Editor: Kevin J. Grout
Communications Director: TBA

The next issue of Brock News is Wednesday, January 12, 2004 with a firm copy deadline of Friday, December 24, 2004, at 12 noon.

PUBLICATION IS EVERY 2 WEEKS
Canada Post Agreement # 40065767

United Way surpasses goal

PHOTO SUPPLIED

President David Atkinson joined (from left) Brock University United Way Campaign Co-chairs Al Ross and Joe Engemann to present a cheque for $80,540 to George Darte, Chair of the United Way of St. Catharines & District, during a recent event to celebrate the record-breaking campaign achievement.

Congratulations once more to the Brock Community. Our 2004 United Way campaign has officially closed with $80,540 raised. Thanks to the many caring people at Brock who supported the campaign this year.

A special thanks to Linda Klop and members of the Bookstore for raising $967 at the final campaign event, the annual Bookstore Art and Crafts Sale. Once again everyone, our thanks and we wish you all a happy and restful holiday!

Your 2004 Campaign Co-Chairs
- Al Ross & Joe Engemann

NSERC recognizes 25 years of research

Science and Engineering Research Canada (NSERC) and Brock recently recognized several faculty members who have achieved over 25 years of research excellence. Celebrating the achievement, from left, front row, were : Dr. Michael Owen, Brock's Associate Vice-President, Research; Dr. Ron Kerman, Professor of Mathematics; Dr. Mary Frances Richardson, Professor of Chemistry; Dr. Sid Segalowitz, Professor of Psychology; Fran Brown, spouse of the late Dr. Herbert Holland, Professor of Chemistry; Dr. Stuart Rothstein, Professor of Chemistry and Physics; and Dr. Howard Bell, Professor of Mathematics.
Back row, from left: Dr. Ian Brindle, Dean of Mathematics and Science; Jim Bradley, MPP for St. Catharines and Minister of Tourism and Recreation; John Maloney, MP for Welland; Dr. Jack Miller, Brock's Special Advisor on Building and Space; Dr. Alan Bown, Professor Emeritus, Biological Sciences; Dr. Peter Rand, Professor Emeritus, Biological Sciences.
Absent from the photo was Dr. Wayne Jolly, Professor of Earth Sciences.

Humanities Research Day
Continued from page 1

Know It, and Why They Care, panels will include presentations by Angus Smith, Brian Power, Rosemary Hale, Christine Daigle, Gillian McGillivray, Mark Spencer, Angela Mills and David Fancy. Those interested in hearing about "Pots, Scripts, Nuns' Sense and Politics," and "Revolution, Factions, Sequestration and Meditation" are welcome to attend one or both panels.

For further information, contact Marilyn Rose, Director of the HRI (mrose@brocku.ca) or Adele Romak (aromak@brocku.ca, ext. 5152).

Children's Movement Program, Winter 2005

The Saturday morning Children's Movement Program begins Saturday, January 8, and runs for eight Saturdays during the winter. Taught by senior PEKN students, the program allows children of all abilities, aged "walking" to 12 years the opportunity to run, jump, dance, climb and move! The Children's Movement Program is based on the Movement Education model, which allows children to make choices and decisions in following tasks given by instructors. Movement partners are available for children who have special needs and require some extra assistance.

Registration is available by phone at ext. 4060, or in person at the Walker Complex Welcome Desk.

Brock Briefs...

Weight Watchers @ Work

Recreation Services would like to offer this service to interested individuals in the new year. An information session will be scheduled and the program will be set up if there is sufficient response. Please e-mail Lynn Hunter-Hope at lynn@brocku.ca or call ext. 3482 by Wednesday, January 5, 2005, if you are interested.

Delineations on display

Delineations, an exhibition of drawings by Niagara artists Judy Marquis and Arnold J. McBay, is currently on display in the Lobby of the Sean O'Sullivan Theatre. Marquis is an Art Instructor at Brock, and McBay is a Studio Assistant in Brock's Visual Art Department.

The gestural works in this exhibit map out the creative lexicon of the two artists whose output has centred around the act of drawing for much of their careers. The exhibition, which runs until Monday, December 20, is sponsored by the Department of Visual Arts.

Correction notice

The Harassment Prevention Office would like to apologize for the omission of OPIRG as one of the main sponsors and participants in the planning and presentation of the event planning for the Prevention of Violence Against Women, including the Ribbon Campaign, the Stolen Sisters presentation and the memorial service held December 6. We would like to acknowledge their hard work and regret this omission.

New service on Niagara Symphony Web site

Inviting a friend to the Symphony has just gotten easier! Simply log on to the Niagara Symphony Web site (www.niagarasymphony.org), find the concert you want to attend on the Concerts page, and click on the "Invite a Friend" button. Enter your friend's e-mail, and your message, then send.

The e-mail your friend receives will include your invitation, plus information on the concert you are interested in - the date, time, repertoire details, and how to order tickets.

As long as you have your e-mail address book handy, you can now plan a Niagara Symphony outing without leaving your desk or picking up the phone.

For more information visit www.niagarasymphony.org, e-mail: info@niagarasymphony.org or call 905-687-4993, ext. 1.

Campus Ministries Cookie Drop-In

Campus Ministries is hosting its Cookie Drop-In weeknights from December 13 to 21 in the Multi-Faith Room.

The Drop-In, now in its 17th year, provides a place for students to relax, talk and take a break from studying for a few minutes. The event features coffee, tea, hot chocolate as well as home-baked cookies provided by local churches. Chaplain Andre Basson, one of the organizers, sees the Drop-In as an important ministry during a very stressful time for students: "The cookies and refreshments are a concrete way for people of faith to tell students that we care. Students of all faiths (or none) are welcome."

The Multi-Faith Room is located on the lower level of Schmon Tower, next to the Tower Cafeteria. Chaplains and volunteers will be on hand during the Drop-In to encourage and counsel harried students during the pressure-packed examination period. Contact Campus Ministries gaddison@brocku.ca, abasson@brocku.ca, or rmasseur@brocku.ca, for more information.

FACULTY AND STAFF

CHEMISTRY

Tomas Hudlicky, a Canada Research Chair in the Department of Chemistry, recently completed his second extensive itinerary of invited lectures on his research since September 2004. Hudlicky's research area is organic synthesis, with interests that range from synthons for fine chemicals to the synthesis of natural and unnatural products.

Hudlicky's Canadian hosts were the chemistry departments at the Universities of Montreal and McGill, the National Research Centre-Bioinstitute, and Bristol Meyers Squibb; U.S. hosts were GlaxoSmithKline, Merck Research Laboratories, and Virginia Technical University; and those in Europe were the ETH Institute of Biotechnology, the Institute for Organic Chemistry at the University of Zurich, the Ecole Polytechnic Federale de Lausanne, and Firmenich SA.

EDUCATION

John Novak, Department of Graduate and Undergraduate Studies in Education, participated in a panel discussion with U.S. Congressman John Lewis of Georgia, Mayor of Atlanta Shirley Franklin and Indiana State Congressman Vernon Smith. The topic of the televised discussion was "The Brown Decision: What Can We Celebrate Fifty Years Later?" The session was a part of the International Alliance for Invitational Education's annual conference held October 8 in Atlanta, Ga.

Lynette Fast was the 2004 recipient of the Ray Blackwell Award for Excellence in Art Education, presented by the Ontario Society for Education Through Art at its annual fall conference.

ENGLISH

Steven D. Scott is the co-editor of a new book entitled Intersections: Readings in the Sciences and Humanities, 2nd ed. (Toronto: Pearson, 2005), with Don Perkins and Erika Rothwell.

HISTORY

On December 1, Neil Kennedy presented a paper entitled "The evolution of urban space in St. George's Bermuda," to the International Workshop on the Caribbean City, at the Research School of Asian, African, and Amerindian Studies, University of Leiden, the Netherlands.

MATHEMATICS

Chantal Buteau recently made the following presentations:

• "Motivic Structure of Music: A Bottom-Up Approach," as part of the Music Information Processing Systems (MIPS) Workshop at the Neural Information Processing Systems (NIPS) 2004 Conference, held December 13-18 in Vancouver and Whistler.

• "Topological Spaces of Music Motives: An Application of T_0-Spaces," at the Canadian Mathematics Society (CMS) Winter 2004 Meeting, held December 11 to 13 at McGill University in Montreal.

MODERN LANGUAGES, LITERATURES AND CULTURES

Professor Emeritus Leonard Rosmarin was invited by the Salon du livre de Colmar, France, to attend the launching of his new book titled Liliane Atlan ou la quête de la forme divine, on November 27 and 28. During the two days of the Salon du livre, he spoke with interested readers and autographed copies of his book.

POLITICS

Victor M. Fic, Professor Emeritus, recently had a book published, entitled Anatomy of the Jakarta Coup: October 1965. Collusion with China which Destroyed the Army Command, President Sukarno and the Communist Party of Indonesia, (New Delhi: Abhinav Publications, 2004). The book represents the third volume of his series of studies of Indonesia, entitled INDONESIA: The Origin and Evolution of its Pluralism from the Hindu-Buddhist Era, Through the Islamic Period to a Modern Secular State.

EVENTS

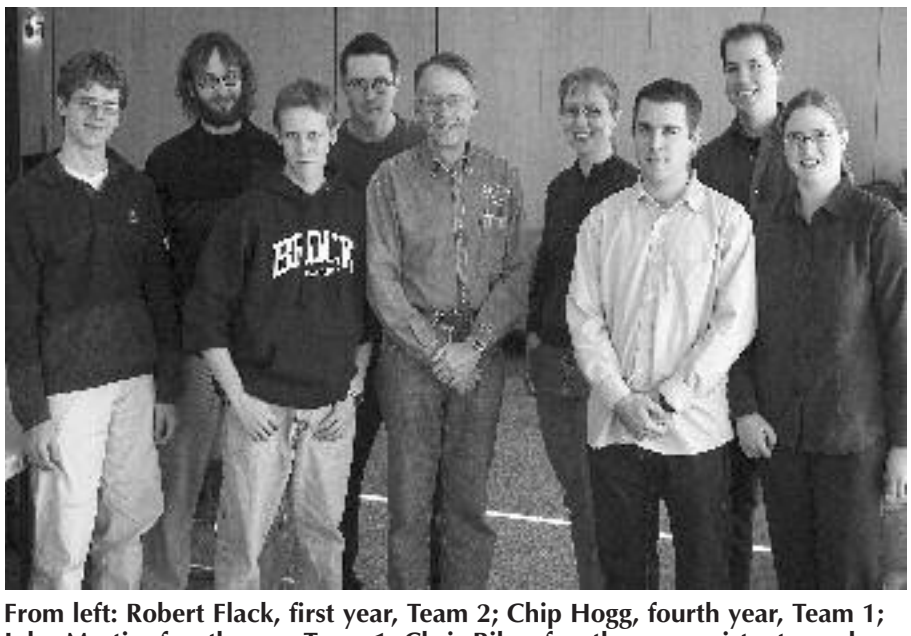
Centre for the Arts: Gift certificates make great stocking stuffers! Call the Box Office for information! Tickets for the following events, unless sold out, are available at the Box Office, 905-688-5550, ext. 3257: The Way We Feel: A Tribute to Gordon Lightfoot, January 12, 7:30 p.m., Sean O'Sullivan Theatre; Don Harron and his Jubilee Friends, January 13, 7:30 p.m., Sean O'Sullivan Theatre; Diouf, January 15, 7:30 p.m., Sean O'Sullivan Theatre; Randy Bachman, January 19 (Sold Out); Theatre Smith-Gilmour: Chekhov Shorts, January 26, 7:30 p.m., Sean O'Sullivan Theatre; Kronos Quartet, January 27, 7:30 p.m., Sean O'Sullivan Theatre; Preservation Hall Jazz Band, January 28, 7:30 p.m., Sean O'Sullivan Theatre; Theatre Terra: Frog and His Friends, January 30, 2:30 p.m., David S. Howes Theatre www.arts.brocku.ca

Music@Noon: The Department of Music presents a Faculty Recital featuring Karin Di Bella on piano, Tuesday, January 18; and Jonathan Earp on guitar, Tuesday, January 25. Sean O'Sullivan Theatre, 12 noon, free admission.

CLASSIFIED

For Sale: 1992 Acura Vigor GS, 2.5L, 5 cyl., four-door. Fully loaded with leather interior, sunroof, power windows and locks, air conditioning, tilt steering, cruise control, eight-speaker factory stereo, minor rust, 181,000 km. Asking $4,200 or best offer. For more information, call Tim at 905-984-8643.

Brock computer science students place near top in regional programming competition



From left: Robert Flack, first year, Team 2; Chip Hogg, fourth year, Team 1; John Martin, fourth year, Team 1; Chris Riley, fourth year, assistant coach; Jon Radue, Chair of the Department of Computer Science; Sheridan Houghton, Assistant Professor in the Department of Computer Science and coach; Wolfgang Haas, fourth year, Team 1; Robert Barwell, fourth year, Team 2; and Sarah McCaffery, second year, Team 2.

A team of Brock computer science students placed first among undergraduate-only programs and 11th overall out of 131 teams in the regional Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) Collegiate Programming Competition at Sheridan College recently.

The competition featured teams from 72 colleges and universities throughout western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Ontario. Both of Brock's entries, Team 1 ("Smarter Than Them"), which placed 11th overall, and Team 2 ("Well They Cheated") which placed 20th overall, finished ahead of schools including Queen's University, Penn State, the University of Ottawa, and Ohio State.

Team "Smarter Than Them" was comprised of Brock students Chip Hogg, John Martin and Wolfgang Haas. Team "Well They Cheated" was comprised of Brock students Robert Flack, Robert Barwell and Sarah McCaffery.

The ACM International Collegiate Programming Contest (ICPC) provides students with opportunities to interact with students from other universities and to sharpen and demonstrate their problem-solving, programming, and teamwork skills.

Society in Transition lecture series

Gwynne Dyer spoke with faculty and students at a question and answer session prior to his presentation as part of the Society in Transition lecture series.

Society in Transition, a lecture series presented by the Faculty of Social Sciences at Brock, recently featured renowned Canadian journalist Gwynne Dyer at a packed house in the David S. Howes Theatre.

Dyer's talk was titled "Future: Tense - The Foundations of World War III are being laid today," and explored the ramifications of various global conflicts, including the current war in Iraq.

Dyer is a Canadian journalist and historian whose column on international affairs is published by 175 papers in 45 countries. His award-winning TV and radio series, including War, The Human Race, and Millennium, have been broadcast around the world, and he comments regularly on international affairs for both the CBC and the BBC.

The lecture series will continue in the new year with guest speaker Henry A. Giroux on Thursday, March 3, 2005. He will present "The Abandoned Generation: Higher Education and the Crisis of Youth" starting at 8 p.m., in the David S. Howes Theatre.

Giroux is the Global Television Network Chair in Communications at McMaster University. His latest book is Take Back Higher Education (co-authored with Susan Giroux). This lecture is presented in co-operation with the Faculty of Education, Controversies in Education series.

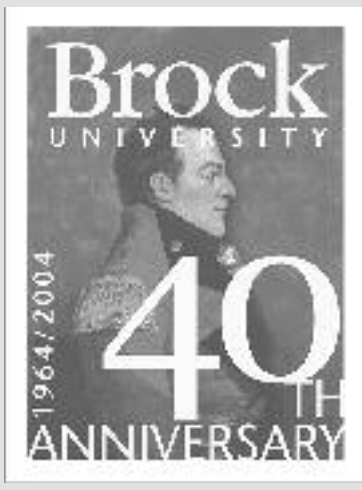
Admission to all lectures is free and everyone is welcome to attend. There is no registration required.

Brock recognized for community partnership

PHOTO SUPPLIED

Brock University received a Community Partnership Award at the inaugural St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce 2004 Business Achievement Awards held recently. The award recognizes an organization's spirit of community involvement and commitment that makes a positive difference for many. Brock received the award for the business in St. Catharines with 51 or more employees. Center for the Arts Managing Director Debbie Slade accepted the award on behalf of the University. Making the presentation are Chamber of Commerce President Peter Kudreikis (left) and Past President Gord Hunchack.

40th Anniversary time capsule



Members of the Brock community are invited to be a part of the 40th Anniversary celebrations - for years to come. A time capsule is being prepared to mark this very special occasion. We encourage you to be part of history in the making by offering you the opportunity to have your name included on a scroll that will be sealed within the time capsule and installed on campus at the close of the Anniversary year.

Participation in this exciting event is just $40 per name with all proceeds, matched dollar for dollar, going towards student scholarships.

Come view the time capsule at the Circulation Desk in the James A. Gibson Library, and pick up your order form.

PUBLICATIONS

Beamish, Rob; and Ritchie, Ian. "From Chivalrous 'Brothers-in-arms' to the Eligible Athlete: Changed Principles and the IOC's Banned Substance List." International Review for the Sociology of Sport, 2004, 39(4), pp. 355-371.

Bell, H. E. and Yaqub, A. (2004) "Near-commutativity and partial-periodicity conditions for rings." Results in Math, 46, pp. 24-30

Brand, U.; Legrand-Blain, M.; and Streel, M. (2004). "Biochemostratigraphy of the Devonian-Carboniferous boundary global stratotype section and point (GSSP), Griotte Formation, La Serre, Montagne Noire, France." Palaeogeography Palaeoclimatology Palaeoecology, 205, pp. 337-357 (cross-referenced in Cold Regions Bibliography Project, American Geological Institute, June 2004).

Cuff, George; Siegel, David; and Tindal, Richard. "Representation Riddle: Conflicting Demands on the Local Councillor," Municipal World, (December 2004), pp. 9-12, 35.

Fast, Lynette. (2004). "Picture book illustrations in elementary school visual arts programs: More than meets the eye." Canadian Review of Art Education, 30(2), pp. 1-20.

Hennigar, Matthew. (2004). Review Essay: "Limiting Arbitrary Power: The Vagueness Doctrine in Canadian Constitutional Law," (by Marc Ribeiro, Vancouver: UBC press, 2004). Law & Politics Book Review (an electronic publication of the Law and Courts Section of the American Political Science Association), 14, pp. 882-888.

Lee, X.; Hu, R.; Brand, U.; Liu, X.; Yuan, H.; Yan, C.; and Zhou, H. (2004). "Ontogenetic trace element distribution in brachiopods: an indicator of original seawater chemistry." Chemical Geology, 209, pp. 49-65.

Metallinos, C.; Barrett, F. B.; Chaytor, J. L.; Heska, M. E. A. (2004)."A Benzimidazole-Based N-Heterocyclic Carbene Derived from 1,10-Phenanthroline", Organic Letters, 6, 3641.

Pailing, P.I. and Segalowitz, S.J. (2004). The effects of uncertainty in error monitoring on associated ERPs. Brain and Cognition, 56, pp. 215-233.

Ridderinkhof, K.R.; van den Wildenberg, W.P.M.; Segalowitz, S.J.; and Carter, C.S. (2004). Neurocognitive mechanisms of cognitive control: The role of prefrontal cortex in action selection, response inhibition, performance monitoring, and reward-based learning. Brain and Cognition, 56, pp. 129-140.

Rosmarin, Leonard. Liliane Atlan ou la quête de la forme divine, Toronto and Paris: Les Éditions du GREF/L'Harmattan, 2004, p. 385.

Rosmarin, Leonard. "Le Temps, l'amour et la mort dans La Voix désabritée." Lectures de Pierre Torreilles. Sergio Villani and Paul Perron (editors), Toronto/Ottawa/New York: 2004, pp. 77-84.

Van der Est, A.; Valieva, A. I.; Kandrashkin, Y. E.; Shen, G.; Bryant, D. A.; Golbeck, J. H. (2004). "Removal of PsaF Alters Forward Electron Transfer in Photosystem I: Evidence for Fast Reoxidation of QK-A in Subunit Deletion Mutants of Synechococcus sp. PCC 7002", Biochemistry, 43, 1264.

Correction

In our last issue, wrestling coach Marty Calder was incorrectly identified in a photo on page 1. The editor of Brock News apologizes for this error.

Some students from Brock's first class, who graduated as "The Silver Badgers," decorate for Christmas, 1964. The Office of University Advancement wishes a happy holiday season for the Brock community.