Fidelis Anatute Kambilige Bursary

This bursary was established in memory of the late Fidelis Anatute Kambilige, an international graduate student in the Political Science Department who came to Brock University from Ghana, West Africa. This bursary is open to all International Graduate students (Student Visa) of Brock University. Applicants must complete this form, and submit a brief statement (100-250 words) illustrating why they chose to study internationally for their graduate degree, and how their experience at Brock University and Canada has affected their academic career. Two awards of $200 each will be given – 1 at the end of Fall term and 1 at the end of Winter. Based on the statement, potential recipients will be narrowed down to ten (10). The winner(s) will be chosen from those 10 by a random draw. Students can only be awarded this bursary once during the length of their program at Brock.

Applications can be submitted to the GSA Office (MC C302)
