

Brock International Speaker Series

Mon, Feb 4, 2013
3-4PM
CAIRNS 207

Ashley Hobden

Ashley Hobden has dedicated her Child and Youth Studies MA research to children in the Brazilian Favelas. Ashley first went to Brazil in 2011 on a Solidarity Experiences Abroad trip with Brock's Campus Ministries. With a keen interest in the lives of children, she then lived and volunteered for one year in Rio de Janeiro.

In May, Ashley will travel to Brazil again to complete an ethnographic study of a Brazilian Favela in Rio de Janeiro. She will be studying the conceptualizations of childhood. Ashley believes there is a lot to be learned from the children in regards to their own interpretations of the social world and their place within it.

Maybe we have it wrong: Researching Childhood in the Brazilian Favela

Presentation & Discussion
Ashley Hobden, MA student

This presentation is part of International Development Week 2013 & hosted in partnership with International Services & Programs Abroad.

Brock International | IC 253
905 688 5550 X 6160
brockint1@brocku.ca

