LIBRARY

Policy Statement

The resources and services of the James A. Gibson Library exist primarily to support the research and study needs of the academic community. Beyond this purpose, the Library recognizes that there is a legitimate need to offer some of its services to members of the general public who have no formal connection with the University.

Free Access

Members of the community are welcome to consult the collections and may also take advantage of the following services: assistance in the use of the collections, Special Collections and Archives, the Sound and Video Collection and the microform reading equipment. There is a charge for photocopying, printing and Interlibrary Loan/Document Delivery.

Borrowing

The Extramural Borrowing Program offers individual memberships to the general public and institutional memberships to businesses. The University Library is pleased to serve the community in this way. However, you are encouraged to check the holdings of the public libraries in the region for your research needs before applying for extramural borrowing privileges. The borrowing card may be used only by the person to whom it is issued.

High School Use

High school students are welcome to use the James A. Gibson Library, but are encouraged first to make use of the resources available in their school and public libraries. Students must have acquired basic library skills prior to visiting the University Library and have a firm grasp of their research topic. Seminars for senior students are to be arranged by teacher-librarians. Teachers and teacher-librarians must remain with the students during the entire visit.

Please refer to the Library website:
