

Pest Control

Various pests will inevitably visit the University's interior and exterior spaces, occasionally in heavier volumes at particular times of the year. The University's Facilities Management contracts with an outside provider to deal with pest control. Once contacted, the provider will visit the area of concern and take appropriate measures as deemed by the University and the contractor. The contractor visits are logged by Facilities Management to help assess pest problems in particular buildings. You can be of assistance by advising the Facilities Management Customer Service Desk (ext. 3717) of any problems in your building or office area. In the event of small rodent infestations, the disposal of food waste into corridor receptacles versus private office containers, along with reducing the storage of food in offices, will significantly curtail the feeding habitat of these creatures and thereby assist with their nesting and removal.
